LASSO

We're excited to announce the latest update to the LASSO Mobile app, made possible by your invaluable feedback. This release is dedicated to each of you! We've listened closely and incorporated many of your suggestions to enhance your experience. Your continued input is vital in our journey to improve the app further.

LASSO Mobile Release Version History

Version 1.0.7

Status Labels in Opportunities
In the Opportunities tab, we've added "Applied" and "Declined Opportunities" under the clock and orange check mark icons to make it easy for you to see the status of your opportunities.

Resolved Rate Issue in Opportunities
Rates should now be displayed properly in the new app so you can "use crew rate" or "display default crew rate" based on your settings.

Version 1.0.6

Opening File Attachments
We've optimized the ability to open files from attachments from messages so you can easily download and view any necessary attachments needed for an event.

Overnight Shifts
We received feedback that on overnight shifts, it would appear in the app that the shift is on the second day in the schedule view which can be confusing when reviewing your schedule. We've fixed this issue and now overnight shifts will display correctly on the Schedule calendar.

Readability Issues
The light blue font color that is used throughout the app can be difficult to read when your device is in light mode. We were able to adjust the readability of the text in the Opportunities list so it should be clear to read when in light mode.

Version 1.0.5

Notification and Update Visibility

We've made some updates to ensure you have better notification visibility, including red app badge icons and automatic loading (no refreshing needed) of new content in the app so you always have the latest information.

Unread Message Indicator
Staying on track with your messages is now easier! Now, in the message inbox you will be able to see an unread message indicator so you can easily keep track of which messages you've read and what new messages you have waiting in your inbox.

Copy Capabilities
There was a gap in parity where in the new mobile app you could not copy and paste the event name or event code. We're happy to now have fixed that issue and you can now easily copy your event name and ID from the Event Details page.

Opportunities Enhancements
We were made aware that opportunities that are closed for bidding did not show that way in the new app. We've fixed that issue so now opportunities include status and confirmation of application.

Dashboard Messages Enhancements
You will notice we've added "Show All" for dashboard messages section so you can see all of your messages in one place.

Calendar Feed Enhancements
The Calendar feed setup should now be fixed to function the same way as it did in the old app.
Note: This has only been fixed for Apple devices. We plan to have this issue resolved for Android devices in the new year.

URL Issue Resolved

We heard that some links in URLs to messages would not work and are happy to share that we have resolved this issue. Now URLs in messages should ensure that any links to online content is visible.

Schedule Calendar View

If you have more than 10 crew profiles, we've resolved the issue with the schedule calendar view and you should be able to see all of the crew profiles in one view.

Shift Date Ranges on Messages

We've resolved the issue with shift date ranges in messages and you should be able to view them now.
